
Brenda Grubbs

Controllers

Dallas

Brenda is head of the Controllers team in Dallas with responsibility for providing financial and regulatory reporting, accounting services and controls to funds and investment entities for multiple divisions across the firm. She serves as a co-sponsor of the Dallas Women's Network.

Previously, Brenda was head of the investment tax team in Irving responsible for US tax reporting for global investments managed by Archon. She joined Archon, formerly a subsidiary of Goldman Sachs, in 1996 as tax manager and became a vice president in 1999. Brenda was named managing director in 2012.

Prior to joining Archon, she worked in the tax practice at Arthur Andersen in Houston from 1989 to 1996, serving clients in the real estate and financial services industries.

Brenda earned a BBA in Accounting and a Master in Professional Accounting, with a specialization in Tax, from The University of Texas at Austin in 1989. She is a certified public accountant in the state of Texas.

