
Tammy A. Kiely

Investment Banking
San Francisco

Tammy is co-head of Technology, Media and Telecom Investment Banking Services. She also serves as global head of the Semiconductor and Autotech Investment Banking Practice in the Technology, Media and Telecom Group. Tammy became head of the global semiconductor investment banking team in 2006 and assumed responsibility for the autotech practice in 2017. During her 19 years at the firm, she has worked with a variety of companies on numerous financings as well as mergers and acquisitions. Tammy joined Goldman Sachs in 1999 in the Technology Investment Banking Group. She became a vice president in 2002 and was named managing director in 2007 and partner in 2014.

Prior to joining the firm, Tammy worked at KPMG as a CPA in the Information, Communications and Entertainment practice. She provided assurance services to technology companies, with a particular focus on semiconductor and hardware companies.

Tammy serves as co-chairman of the Greater Bay Area chapter of the American Heart Association and is a member of the Dean's Advisory Council at the Orfalea College of Business at the California Polytechnic State University.

Tammy earned a BS in Business Administration, summa cum laude from the California Polytechnic State University in San Luis Obispo, California, in 1993. She earned an MBA from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business, where she was an Arjay Miller Scholar, in 1999.