
Gary Chropuvka
Investment Management
New York

Gary is co-head of the Quantitative Investment Strategies (QIS) team within Goldman Sachs Asset Management (GSAM). The QIS team manages leading big data, smart beta and alternative risk premia strategies around the world, focusing on factor-based approaches in stock selection, rules-based and customized indices, hedge fund beta, impact investing, as well as tax-efficient investment strategies.

Previously, Gary was a portfolio manager for GSAM's QIS Equity Alpha business, managing the portfolio implementation efforts for both tax-exempt and taxable clients, a position he held for seven years. Gary has been a member of the QIS team since 1999, having joined to manage the team's tax-efficient investment strategies. He joined Goldman Sachs in 1998 as an analyst in GSAM's Private Equity Group and was named managing director in 2006 and partner in 2014.

Gary serves on the Board of Trustees of Rutgers University, and is a member of the Board's Joint Committee on Investments. Gary also serves on the Board of Trustees of the Monmouth Medical Center Foundation.

Gary earned a BA in Mathematics from Rutgers University and a master's degree in financial engineering from Columbia University. He is a CFA charterholder.

