

Asahi Pompey: Goldman Sachs is thrilled to have you.

Melissa Bradley: Goldman Sachs One Million Black Women Black in Business program is a curated series of workshops and trainings. It's an amazing opportunity to be able to help the fastest growing segment, which are Black women, and to really help them move from being a founder to a CEO. And really focus on what they've done and celebrate how they've gotten started via tactical tools and strategy to help them grow and scale.

Jessica Taylor: You all are CEOs of your business.

Tioana S.: I am a CEO. I was a CEO before I came here. But being here just let me know that I'm-- I'm right where I'm supposed to be.

Rian H.: Black in Business is a game changer. It will put your career, your company, your trajectory on a whole different level.

VOICE: We know that for sustained, inclusive growth, we need to invest in Black women.

Minke R.: This program is a catalyst for your business.

Jessica Taylor: This is a beautiful, beautiful sight.

Nichola H.: It is an excellent opportunity to expand your business, to understand your business, and to build the sisterhood amongst all of us.

Asahi Pompey: So, what are we focused on? We're focused on turning your ideas, your dreams into reality and economic growth.

Christiana A.: Making sure that I'm spending time with my business advisor and going through new processes that help me understand what I needed to do to take my business to the next level is super important.

Asahi Pompey: You guys are going to learn from each other. And this spirit of community, you walked into this room not knowing each other, you're going to leave connected with each other.

Kimberly C.: Lift a sister up. One rise, we all rise.

LaKeisha E.: I have learned that I am capable of more than I thought I was. I've realized that a lot of the things that I needed, I already had.

VOICE: You already have what it takes. It's just a matter of applying it.

VOICE: My analytics are already [UNINTEL]. I'm getting more and more views on my reels and content.

VOICE: We've been treated like queens. Um, the information is invaluable.

VOICE: I plan to take the most of this and grow my business.

Asahi Pompey: Now, are you ready to grow your business?

VOICES: Yes!
