
Kathleen G. Elsesser

Investment Banking
New York

Kathy is co-head of the Global Consumer Retail Group in the Investment Banking Division (IBD). She serves as a member of the IBD Operating Committee and IBD Client and Business Standards Committee and is a former member of the Partnership Committee. Kathy was previously the global chairman of Diversity for IBD and served as a member of the Firmwide Diversity Committee. She joined Goldman Sachs in 1989 as a financial analyst in IBD and rejoined the firm in 1993 as an associate. Kathy became a vice president in 1997 specializing in leveraged buyouts and acquisition financings and moved to the Consumer Retail Group in 2001. She was named managing director in 2002 and partner in 2004.

Kathy is involved in a number of nonprofit organizations, including serving as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Brooklyn Children's Museum and the Board of Directors of the Brooklyn Bridge Park Conservancy.

Kathy earned a BA in Management and Psychology from Boston College in 1989 and an MBA from the J.L. Kellogg Graduate School of Management, Northwestern University in 1993.

